

We are looking for a driven, dynamic and innovative Laravel Developer that will bring 'out of the box' and creative ideas to Appoly as well as a 'can do' positive attitude and a sense of humour!

We are going through a huge growth period and this is where you come in!

The Role:

Working on and furthering your skills on projects creating intuitive, robust and intelligent web development applications.

Each project is a different experience requiring fresh thinking across a multitude of industry sectors. Working under the supervision of our Head of Web, you will assist with creating product solutions and ideas for clients.

Experience/ qualifications and skills required:

- Knowledge or experience of any of the following: PHP, Laravel, VueJS, MySQL
- A minimum of 2 years of experience relevant to this role
- Good understanding/knowledge in Gsuite, Github, Slack
- Excellent interpersonal and communication skills.
- Great attitude with the ability to quickly build rapport with clients, team members, and internal stakeholders.

What's on offer?

Salary: Between £30,000 - £45,000 (depending on experience)

Benefits: As well as a competitive salary and real opportunities for development, we want to make sure that every Appoly employee looks forward to coming to work, so we offer the following:

- Flexible hybrid working
- 25 Days holiday plus bank holidays
- Company pension scheme
- Paid day off for your birthday, even if your birthday happens to fall on the weekend
- Free breakfast every Friday
- End of month drinks at the office is entirely on us!
- Potential to do a secondment in our Australia/London office.
- Research and Development Fridays, whereby you can spend the day investing in your skills by researching topics relevant to your role
- Beautiful office location in central Leamington Spa
- Apple hardware
- Opportunity to start your own tech business under our 'Entrepreneurial incubation' scheme.
- Laravel Certification training and exam

About us:

From a start-up back in 2017, Appoly has grown into a multi-brand company of 23 technology professionals in 3 offices across the UK and Australia. Since its inception, building great relationships with our clients has been paramount and led to exponential growth. We became a Laravel Certified Company in 2022.

We provide full-service delivery capabilities in Design, Delivery Management, Native Mobile App, Web Applications, Backend services development and Quality Assurance services. We were founded to disturb the market, making a difference to the operational running of our client's businesses through enhancing their technology ecosystems.

Appoly is still founder-led and we believe strongly in building our business around great people. We only promote from within and work hard to provide quick progression and career opportunities to all employees equally.

We are also very conscious about our environmental and social responsibilities and are exploring how we can continue to offset our carbon footprint.

Next steps:

Rapid expansion can only be sustained with people as ambitious as we are – and if that sounds like you, we want to meet you.

Please send your CV and a cover letter to careers@appoly.co.uk and if we think you're the right fit for Appoly you'll be invited for an interview.

Please note, if we believe there will be other opportunities for you in the future, our recruitment team will retain your CV. Please let our recruitment team know if you wish to have your details removed from our database. Please see our Privacy Notice for further details.

You must have the right to work in the UK to be considered for this role.